

Student Worksheet

Use the following worksheet as a template to write a report which will help you to understand the phenomena of each activity ; write using a text editor like word. You can add any questions you may want.

Group n. Components:
Activity title:
Delivery Date
Questions	Question Answers / considerations / sources	Type of source *
Write in this column the questions you find in the Student Guide	Answer here to the corresponding question. You can add here your own further considerations and you must insert the bibliographic references (as [1], [2], ...) of the sources provided or found by yourself.	Consider here all the items that helped you in the formulation of your answer, choosing their type among: A. experiment (induction) B. theory from books / notes C. theory from the internet D. comparison in the group E. teacher F. previous knowledge ...
Question 1		A. experiment (induction) B. theory from books / notes C. theory from the internet D. comparison in the group E. teacher F. previous knowledge ...
Q. 2		A. experiment (induction) B. theory from books / notes C. theory from the internet D. comparison in the group E. teacher F. previous knowledge ...
....
....
Conclusions
Summary of what you have learned. Use this section to devise the talk you will present to your classmates.
Conclude with the list of sources that you suggest (bibliography)
[1] [2] ..
Sum of the indicators : Next to each entry add how many times it was chosen during the previous answers. Using frequency only as one of the available data, each member of the group adds personal considerations on each aspect with the aim of agreeing an order of importance in which to list each item. more important ←————→ less important	A. experiment (induction) B. theory from books / notes C. theory from the internet D. comparison in the group E. teacher F. previous knowledge N	Sum (ex) 5 3